ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

Christmas carols echoed through the vast columns of the Little Theater, accompanied by the music of Johnny Coon's orchestra, as Farm Credit folks gathered for their 3rd annual Christmas party. Absent only were those men and women in uniform, of whom we're so proud. We're sure that every heart joined in a fervent prayer that the new year bring victory and their return.

Hester Waters, as mistress of ceremonies, certainly deserves a big hand for the wit and humor she added to the party. The way she cajoled those bashful men out of dark corners onto the dance floor was truly "Hester" styled. And even if she was pretty busy seeing that everyone else had a wonderful time, don't forget, folks, that she had those orchestra boys to wink at every time she turned around!

Julia Connor, President of the Farm Credit Club, wished everyone a Merry Christmas and a victorious New Year, after which the Chorus and FC folks joined in singing "Jingle Bells," with original words by Amy-Karine Barstad.

How proud we all were when Gardner Walker called our blood donors to the stage and presented each with a bottle of "Merry Christmas." We bet Fulton Want really enjoyed that after donating 18 pints.

Gay hostesses representing each division flitted merrily around and patriotically took turns serving at the refreshment bar. Ummm! All the coke, nuts, and popcorn you could possibly eat!

News From Field And Camp

LETTERS FROM OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Harold Dalby, (SK1c USNSD No. 134, (Off.) Co. Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, California.) Just today your package arrived. Then, too, the Grapevine reaches me quite regularly and needless to say it is perused from cover to cover. It is surely a pleasure to read about the activities of the good old FCA.

I am still here at a base in Australia. If I stay here much longer it is probable I will be converted to a "Fair Dinkum" Aussie. It is probable though that my residence will be changed sometime shortly. Many thanks again for everything and a Merry Christmas to all at FCA.

Capt. E. F. Steiner, (Det. 18G2-Co. G. 2nd E.C.A. Reg APO 658, c/o Postmaster, New York, New York.) I'm well into Germany; instead of a prevailing spirit of "Peace on Earth," this is written to the constant roar of heavy artillery, the occasional rattle of machine guns and the terrific noise of buzz-bombs passing overhead.

I've had some fine experiences. Was in Paris an hour after it fell, then spent ten days in a good city in Belgium, and three weeks in Aachen, getting there, too, just half hour after surrender.

I hope this time next year will find all of us Home again. I don't see how it can last much longer.

(Capt. Steiner before he entered the Army was General Counsel for FCA in New Orleans.)

Pfc. Robert L. Steffey, (31st S.C.U., APO 635, c/o Postmaster, New York, N.Y.) I have been working the swing shift for several months now, and we usually have plenty to do. I did have a furlough, though, about a month ago. Of course I didn't get too far, but it was a relief from the Army routine....The Grapevine comes often, and today I got a package from the FCA club. Quite welcome, too..

We are having quite nasty weather here (England), lots of rain and wind. Once in a while we have some ice, but the temperature is fairly comfortable as a rule...

2nd Lt., A.C. Ira C. Castles, (Base Statistical Control Office, Army Air Field, Grand Island, Nebraska.) My army experience has turned out to be mostly wrestling with statistical reports. The Army Air Forces has an amazingly detailed system of keeping higher headquarters informed of what goes on and there is plenty going on at a training base in Nebraska even though it isn't of such an exciting nature as that in a combat group on Saipan.

Took eight days off recently and managed the household which includes a 22-month old daughter, thus, giving my wife a chance to visit in Lincoln and Kansas City. Have a much better appreciation now of what it's like to be a mother.

Cpl. William M. Coultis, (37507386, Co. C. 1394 Engineer Const. Bn. APO 709, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.) I want to thank everyone for making the swell Christmas package possible. I certainly think it's very nice. It helps to add a bit of our old familiar surrounding to this place.

I have spent nine months over here. Our climate is hot with plenty of rainfall in the rainy season which is summer here and due to the fact that we are on the south side of the Equator, it's winter there. It is far from the "Movie Version" of the South Sea Islands lacking mainly the ever present beautiful girls.

We can go swimming anytime in the warm Pacific. It is warm all the time and some very nice beaches.

OUR WASHINGTON REPORTER

Since Giff Hoag has been back in DC he's seen more old FCA'ers than we see in 6 months - said he bumped into "Flash" McNamee, Russ Nichols (Nat'l Aeronautics) and Bill Maddox (an "oil man") - and Giff gave us new service addresses for Pfc. George Thomson, now in France, and Sgt. R. C. Dorsey, who has a broken leg, according to his wife.

CR&S welcomes two new staff members, J. Leroy Van Horn in our Livestock and "Wolf" Section and Miss Esther V. Athey in our Transportation Section. The annual CR&S Workshop Conference has just come to a close. Among the guests were Ralph Battles, Doug Lawrence, Dr. Metzger, and John Davis.

Apparently last year's Christmas party was a success for we are now in the midst of plans for another. A tree, eats, and a skit (which no doubt will take off on the "characters" around here - since we hear that our leading male actors will take feminine parts!).

SERVICE NEWS

Our Thanksgiving was really a feast. We had fresh turkey with all of the trimmings and was really enjoyed I can assure you....

Ens. C. H. Kongs, (U.S.N.R., Squadron VPB-4, Naval Air Station, San Diego, California.) I enjoy the Grapevine and appreciate the Club's sending it to me.

I am now under training at N.A.S. San Diego, California. Have been assigned to a newly formed squadron, VPB-4, flying the Navy's four engine Seaplane, PB2-'s, and like it.

Mary Linnerman Zeiger, Y2c, (District Security Office, Great Lakes, Ill.) I'm taking time out this afternoon to write and thank my friends at FCA for the lovely Christmas box I received about a week ago. I sure appreciated it and want to thank each and everyone of you for it.

I have been receiving the "Grapevine" and certainly enjoy it. By the way the name Linnerman has been changed to Zeiger effective last June 19th. I have also received my second class rate after waiting for it a year. However, I am still located in the District Security Office and will probably be here for the duration.....

Thanks again!

All available manpower was called upon to join in the dancing (and by the way, we really have some swell dancers here, from jitterbugs to waltzers) as numbers were called intermittently for prizes of candy and cigarettes. That last rare item attracted so much attention that some lucky winners looked as if it would be safer to make a swift exit.

Ah, yes! In the midst of the merriment our "Miss and Mr. Gift" were announced. Honored respectively and appropriately were Norma Jeanne Talkington and Earl Clarke, who also received bottles of "Christmas Cheer."

Dancing stopped and quiet settled over the crowd as Governor Duggan was asked to come forward. And was he ever surprised, and we think just a little bewildered, when presented with a real live "Donald Duck" wearing rubber panties. It seems he's become very much attached to his duck and has been seen taking him for a walk. It is also rumored that Mrs. Duggan has threatened to use the hatchet on both of them if he doesn't get rid of "Donald."

And you unattached men just haven't a chance after that game of "Leap Year Lark." How did you like those cigarettes you won, fellows?

It's quite evident that Fred Howard and Mary Jane Blyholder took Arthur

Murray up on that "two can dance on a penny" ad, as they gaily glided over the floor to the ever-beautiful strains of the "Blue Danube," winning top honors in the Waltz Contest.

When it came to that moment of suspense and they gave away the "Red Point" prizes, yells of glee went up as lucky individuals received the "64 point gifts," five juicy turkeys and ten fat baking hens to festively adorn fifteen Christmas tables. Incidentally, one person was overheard saying that until he won that turkey, he never knew there was a breast - that where he came from, all he had ever seen was the neck and the back.

Ray McWhirt added a $25 War Bond to his future security, with the grand prize of the party. Congratulations, Mac! 'Cause, after all, what better prize could one win?

And last but not least, our thanks and congratulations to those on the Committee (Thomas, Hein, Ross, and Porter), whose hard work was shown by the success of the party. We know that their work was not in vain; and we're sure that every individual enjoyed himself to the utmost, with the knowledge that Farm Credit again hit the top in old year '44! (EEA)

CHRISTMAS CANDLES BURN BRIGHTLY AT OFFICE PARTIES

In a spirit of keeping alive the things at home that are loved and remembered by those in our armed forces, Christmas in 1944 was celebrated by a number of offices on Friday, December 22, with gatherings around gaily decorated trees and tables piled high with sandwiches. Celebrants were gay, not in unforgetting merriment but, in hope and belief in the future.

One of the most carefully planned parties was held in GENERAL FILES SECTION where a tasty buffet luncheon, planned by Pearl Ferguson, was spread on a table decorated with poinsettia plants made from crepe paper and gum drops used as place cards. Programs made from cut-outs of old Christmas cards were the result of the art talents of Rose Santoro. Julia Maxwell's package wrapped as a large snowball with a huge red bow and holly berries won the prize as the most uniquely wrapped gift. Members of the CHIEF CLERK'S OFFICE, PLANNING SECTION, and CHIEF OF ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISION'S OFFICE followed Santa to room 1414 where there awaited them a feast of delicious sandwiches and cake on a table artfully decorated by Jane Nevin with red cloth and silver candlesticks. A highlight of the party was the blush of Verne Hemstreet when he discovered a bit of mistletoe hanging over his head.

Spaghetti was served at the PERSONNEL DIVISION party. The presentation of "appropriate" gifts by St. Nick in the person of Gordon Van Leer was climaxed by the receipt of two goldfish and a miniature line by John Francis. Bill Moore was made happy by several gifts of trophy polish to use in his golfing future; while Lloyd Johnson was showered with gifts of jumping butterflies, snakes, and loaded cigarettes. The LIBRARY STAFF sat down to a sumptuous feast of turkey sandwiches and ice cream. A "Wild West thriller" letter received from Lucille Achauer in New Mexico, telling of an adventure in being ditched in the middle of a western plain by a slow train in a hurry, was read to all. The SOLICITOR'S OFFICE "took over" E. Anthony's official abode where, following lunch, Santa Claus Mischler, beard and all, distributed gifts.

There was much laughter in the MAIL ROOM where the usual picnic fare made up the menu. When the gifts from around the large tree were distributed, there was admiration for the red mittens received by Edith Feighner and the breezy ties which were to adorn the throat of Oliver Mitchell. SECURITIES and REGISTRAR SECTIONS gathered around a tree which radiated the holiday atmosphere. Among the gifts received, some of them opened skeptically, was a surprise silver wedding anniversary gift for Erma Dinger consisting of a pair of silver bud vases.

Members of CENTRAL OFFICE ACCOUNTING mingled in a noon-day party, while REPORTS SECTION celebrated in its usual elaborate style the red of its imitation fireplace seeming to emanate the friendliness of the occasion to passersby who peered in the door. MORTGAGE CORPORATION SERVICE DIVISION gathered around a small tree for a bit of relaxing Christmas conversation. GRAPHIC SECTION celebrated in its usual party style, while strains of carols sung by the "harmonizers" at

Home Service News

The Red Cross recently sent a letter to those in Farm Credit who helped with the stamping and typing of a large consignment of envelopes to be mailed. The letter says in part, "It is only through such cooperation that the Red Cross is a success. Will you please extend to all the kind people our thanks and best wishes for the holiday season."

Three cheers for Sarah B. Schneider who recently completed 1,000 hours of nurse's aide duty at St. Luke's Hospital. She is now sporting three stripes on her uniform and is the possessor of six successive stars on the Honor Roll for having given more hours in each of the last six months than any of the other nurse's aides on night duty at the hospital.

FREDERICK ALLEN

The death of Frederick J. Allen on December 24, after an illness of only a week, came as a shock to his many friends and acquaintances throughout the building.

A native of Cornwall, England, Fred Allen migrated to Canada in 1913 and entered the United States during the same year. He served overseas with the U. S. Army during the first World War and was recently awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action during that war.

He is survived by his wife and daughter in this country and his mother, four brothers, and three sisters in England.

He transferred to the Farm Credit Administration from the State Department as a typewriter mechanic in August of 1941 and was well known for his excellent workmanship and the pleasant and cheerful manners which were a part of his character. He will, indeed, be missed by all who knew him.

ESTHER BARNES

Miss Esther E. Barnes, Administrative Assistant to Mr. Lindsey, Director of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division, died Wednesday, December 27, 1944, at St. Luke's Hospital following a three weeks' illness.

Esther joined the Farm Credit Administration in May 1934. She was a faithful, efficient employee, and during her 10 years with the Administration she gained a host of friends, who, in addition to her close associates, will long cherish her memory.

Funeral services were held at Gates Funeral Home in Kansas City, Kansas, and burial was in Mound Valley, Kansas.

Sympathy of the entire Farm Credit Administration is extended to the Barnes family.

Club Room Notes

For some time past, two of the club's operatic albums containing excerpts from the operas of Richard Wagner have not been available for circulation because of two broken records. These records have now been replaced and lovers of good music will welcome the opportunity to hear in their own homes the glorious voices of Lauritz Melchior and Kirsten Flagstad in famous duets from Wagner's music dramas.

The Club Library receives regularly the following periodicals: Time, News Week, Life, New Yorker, Look, Harpers' Bazaar, Mademoiselle, and the Sunday New York Times, as well as the daily and Sunday Washington Post. Members wishing to suggest any additions to this list should give them to the librarian any day from 12 to 2 p.m. The Library Committee will also welcome the titles of any new or old books that members think we should add to the Club Library. Any suggestions concerning the maintenance of the Club Room should be sent to the Chairman of the Social Committee, Mrs. Kathleen Thomas.

New books recently received in the club library include:

THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL by Baroness Orczy
CHINA TO ME by Emily Hahn
SIX NOVELS OF THE SUPERNATURAL by Edward Wagenknecht

S.R.O. compiled by Bennett Cerf and Van Cartmell

QUO VADIS by H. Sienkiewics

ACCOUNT RENDERED by Vera Brittain

CANNERY ROW by John Steinbeck

CAPTAIN FROM CASTILE by Samuel Shellabarger

ALIAS JANE SMITH by Clarence Budington Kelland

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN by Geo. and Helen Papashvily.

TEN CHRISTMAS LISTS OF BEST BOOKS

The NEW YORK TIMES recently published a symposium of the 10 best books of 1944 selected by 10 literary critics. The leader in fiction was A BELL FOR ADANO with eight votes followed by STRANGE FRUIT with five, BOSTON ADVENTURE with four, WALK IN THE SUN with four, and HISTORY OF ROME HANKS with three. In nonfiction the leaders were WORLD OF WASHINGTON IRVING with seven votes, YANKEE FROM OLYMPUS with four, BRAVE MEN with four, TIME FOR DECISION with four, and PEOPLE ON OUR SIDE with three. All of these books may be borrowed for a few cents a day from the Farm Credit Club Library.

PUBLIC SPEAKING CLASSES RESUME ON JANUARY 5

On December 15, Professor Edwin King of Westport High School conducted the third in the series of classes initiated by the Public Speaking group. Interesting talks on varied subjects were given by class members and much improvement in delivery was noted. At a short business session after the close of the class, Hoyt Elkins was elected chairman of the group and Verna Brewer secretary-Treasurer. In addition to the regular members, visitors present included Kathleen Thomas, R. L. Foster, Mabel Kluttz, Margaret Porter, Dorothy Mack, Marie Puhr, and Hester Waters.

The next class is scheduled for January 5 at 6:30 p.m. in room 2203 when Professor C. C. Fairchild will again be on hand. Members of the course may each invite a guest without charge, and others may take advantage of the last two classes in the series at a cost of 50 cents an evening.

CREDIT UNION ANNUAL MEETING

On January 18 at 4:30 p.m. the members of the FCA Employees Federal Credit Union will meet to elect directors and members of the credit and supervisory committees whose terms expire this year.

In the meantime, a nominating committee consisting of Leslie Surginer, Chairman, Helen McCabe, and Bruce King, is working up a slate of officers. It's hard for any group of three people to know all the folks in the organization who might be qualified to serve the credit union, so they're asking you to help them out. If you, as a member, know someone who is particularly well qualified to serve as a director or member of a committee give his name to one of the members of this committee for consideration when they prepare their report on nominations.

of the Kansas City Country Club to the starting point. In order to avoid wet feet and possible colds, members are urged to wear hiking boots or galoshes if snow still lies on the ground at the time of the hike.

WAGS

Christmas was ushered into the portals of the F.C.A. officially December 21 when the WAGS held their regular meeting in 1345D with a "bring your own lunch" program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cawood, who was in charge, gave a most unique and interesting talk on the origin of several Christmas carols and Christmas as it has been observed throughout the ages at home and in foreign lands. Christmas carols, under the direction of Ruth McMann, with Eula Collins at the piano, were sung by the club at intervals during Mrs. Cawood's comments.

As a special request, Hester Waters repeated her after-dinner speech on "Why I Have Never Married," since the speech was originally inspired by the fact that 1944 was leap year.

The attendance was the largest ever enjoyed by the WAGS and regular members are hopeful that many new names will be added to the membership which is most cordially extended to all F.C.A. women.
